Choosing the Right Pruner is the First Step to Success

At OVS we continue to see that Felco pruners are our number one selling brand. This may be because we offer the best selection of Felco pruning shears in the Northwest, or it may be because they are built with high-quality materials and designed to deliver superior pruning performance. Quality is quickly recognized the first time you pick one up. The Felco shears are manufactured with a forged aluminum body and the handles are covered with non-slip material. The high performance cutting heads are designed to deliver precise clean cuts by allowing micrometric blade adjustment.

Most of the Felco shears are designed with a sap groove to prevent the blade from sticking when cutting "sappy" wood. The blades also feature a notch that allows for the cutting of small wires without damaging the blade.

All Felco models offer easily replaceable parts and OVS is well stocked with spare parts to keep your pruners at top performance. To make it easier to pick the right pruner model for you, please use the following comparison chart.
